About Us

1. GDPR replaces what you may have known as the Data Protection Act 1989.

3. Our context is one of an “unincorporated association”. The implication of this is that:
  - All members are personally, jointly and severally liable for the liabilities and claims caused by another;
  - Our activities are predominantly carried out by volunteers;
  - We comply with the law, but in doing so we seek to do the minimum necessary to do so to keep your costs low and to preserve our volunteer structure;

- We therefore do not operate complex data processing systems or system of internal control that we expect of a larger corporations and their associated cost structures; and
- We agree to hold each other harmless for any errors or omissions by our coaches and our volunteers in respect of data processing save to the extent that their actions are contrary to our agreed policies and procedures, reckless or malicious.
